

The report of a perfect day - A day in London

My mum, dad, my brother and I went to London for our autumn holidays.

The first day was perfect for an excursion to the city. First, we went to a restaurant and ate breakfast. It was delicious. After that we went to London Eye and enjoyed the scenery. It was very beautiful and also very high and scary. But I loved it, it was very exciting! When we left the London Eye we went further to see Hyde Park and set on a park bench where we enjoyed the view on the pond. Later we wanted to do some shopping, so we took the bus to Picadilly Circus. After that we enjoyed some Churros and later we drove home to our apartment and played games. At 9pm I walked to the bathroom and took a shower, it was very relaxing! 30 minutes later I went to bed and fell asleep. I dreamed about the beautiful London Town!

The perfect day – my 11th birthday :)

When I got up my family told me that they have a surprise for me. After breakfast the doorbell rang.

I ran to open the door. All my friends stood there. They sang the Happy-Birthday-song for me and started party poppers. I was very happy about this noise. They told me to come with them and we went by car to the Prater. When we arrived, we all bought cotton candy which I really love. Then we went to the first roller coaster. In the next hours we went to many roller coasters. After some time I got hungry. My mom said, “We can go to a special restaurant – to the roller coaster!” The food came with a small rollercoaster robot. The food was very good, and we took a lot of photos. My birthday was the perfect day for me. In the evening I was very tired and went to bed very lucky.

A perfect day

The perfect day begins in the morning with a self-made Cacao.

After the delicious Cacao my brother and I go on a ride with our bicycles on the Danube island. We take a break at a table tennis table and play a round of table tennis. On the way home, we make a detour in the Danube park where I test my self-made boomerangs. At home I with cook with my mother my favourite food. My favourite food is pepper chicken. After lunch I take a nap. After the nap my family and I make desserts like chocolate pudding. After this we play board games like Risiko or Zug um Zug. after the play I go to the table tennis training. After the training when I come home, I take a shower.

Then I eat a delicious dinner and then my family and I watch a funny film like Bud Spencer or an action film like Star Trek.

After the film I go to bed and sleep very well.

The report of a perfect day

2 years ago I visited London with my mum. My biggest wish came true. We went to the Harry Potter film studios. We took a bus from London to the studios. In the bus we watched the movie "Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone".

The tour started in a very big hall. We got audio guides because the tour was in English. I was so excited. The first highlight was the secret forest. It was dark and creepy. After a few rooms we had lunch. We drank butter beer and ate spider burgers.

After lunch we were at the railway station King's Cross. The most amazing moment was to see the big castle of Hogwarts. After that came my favourite part, the souvenir store. We bought many cool things like wands, T-shirts, keyrings and lots more. The tour took seven hours.

When we were back in London we had dinner in a pub. I ate fish and chips. That was my favourite day.

The report of a perfect day

Hi,

My name is Felix and now I tell you the story of my perfect day. Ok, let's go!

The day started with a yummy breakfast. Then I went to school with my best friend. But when we are at school we looked at my watch and saw that the school started in twenty minutes. So, there was time left for a little step into the shopping centre. After that step the first lesson at school started. It was Maths.

The teacher wasn't there so we played games with our PE teacher in the next lesson we had English. We do some exercise and listening. At the end of the lesson I took my homework book, but then the teacher said, "No homework today!" WHAT, no homework that's awesome news. The third lesson started but then the school attend came and said, Art fail, you can go home!"

Yes, we can go home. So, then I went home earlier with no homework! In the afternoon I went to the cinema with my friends. Later in the evening I went to bed.

The best day of my life

The last Sunday was the best day of my life. It was sunny all the time. I went to the swimming pool with my family and friends. We loved the swimming pool.

On the way to this pool came an ice car. The adult in the ice car was friendly. We all bought ice cream and ate it. 20 minutes later we were in the swimming pool. The water was very cold. This was great. 1 hour later my family went home. My friends and I had a party. We had Schnitzel and soup ...to eat. It was great, we played games and drank tea. It was a great time. At a quarter past eight we went home. At home I played games with my mum and dad.

On a quarter past nine, we watched a film on TV. Then on 12 o'clock pm we went to bed and slept. This was the best day of my life.

THE REPORT OF A PERFECT DAY

I woke up early in the morning. Today was my birthday. I was very excited. After I woke up I got ready for the day. I got my favourite breakfast: fried egg with toast, raspberries and orange juice. And little presents from my sisters and my brother. A book, a DVD, sweets and a computer game. Then my parents and I drove to the shopping mall. There was a toy store and I got a new Lego car.

Back at home I wanted to play with my new car, but my parents told me that there was another surprise. We went to the zoo. There we went straight to my favourite animals. Fish, monkeys, penguins, snakes and wolves.

After three hours I became tired and we drove home. On the way home, we stopped at Mc Donald's and got a good dinner. At night our family watched together my new DVD and fell asleep.

This was really a perfect day.

A* report of a perfect day:

On a Sunday morning Josef stands up at about 30 past seven. Which is not the latest but he has to go to church which he mostly likes. After that he has a good breakfast. He plays in the garden with his dog and goes back in the house. He really likes to play with his friends' games like Minecraft where you can be super creative and sharpen your survival skills.

He Likes to play some roleplay with his friends and build a city. Meanwhile playing with Max and Stefan he vibes to cross music. He just loves it. Then after that he and his family drive back to their house in Vienna. Then he sleeps well until the next day.

The report of a perfect day

My perfect day begins with breakfast in bed. I like to stand up at 10 o'clock. After breakfast I play with my friends in the park. At 1 a.m. I eat lunch. I like Schnitzel with French fries.

I eat the best sauce ever with it: sour cream. After lunch I like to take a very long nap. At 3 a.m. my friends Barbara, David, Annika and I go to the Tigersworld. It's an indoor playground. You can do many fun things. There are many Trampolines, three parkours, a laser hall and five climbing walls. After that we go shopping. All my friends come to my house and we have a sleepover.

After we prepare our beds we watch a film. Annika is the first one asleep. After her David is asleep. Me and Barbara always try to stay up all night, but we always fall asleep. That's my report of my perfect day.

The report of a perfect day

A perfect day begins with a sleep in and a big breakfast. After that I visit one of my friends, we go skating in the park. Because it's hot we go to a coffeeshop and we eat some ice cream. Later we go back to my friend then we play cool computer games. We play Minecraft and then we play Pixel gun 3D. That was fun!

A little bit later we go to the swimming pool, and we play water ball, that's like volleyball but in the water. We go to the waterslide and to the springboard. Then us was boring but then we had an idea:

We go again to my friend, and we play in his room with Lego and we draw some pictures. We hear some stories on the cd player of my friend's mom. After that we go to the cinema and watch death pool2.

What a perfect day!

The Report of a perfect day

I wake up early in the morning. It's raining outside. I get some toast and hot chocolate from the kitchen and have breakfast in my bed, while I'm watching an episode of Simpsons.

I'm rolling out of my bed, go to the bathroom and get dressed. I look in the mirror, my hair fits perfect today. My parents have breakfast in the kitchen, I tell them that I'm going to meet my friend at the skatepark and they agree.

As I leave the house, it suddenly stops raining and the temperature is perfect. I meet my friends at the skatepark and we have much fun there. We are having a snack at a takeaway and I'm inviting my two best friends for dinner.

I come home in the afternoon and relax on the cosy sofa with a book and my favourite spotify playlist in my ear.

When my friends come over, we are watching Netflix and my parents are cooking my favourite food for everybody: Burger!

My friends leave at ten o'clock and I have a nice and long shower. Tired and happy I'm falling into my bed. My mum changed the sheets and it is smelling perfectly fresh.

These are all my favourite things packed into one day, but the most perfect thing would be to have these things without wearing a mask and without the pandemic.

THE DAY THE ANIMALS TOOK OVER

On Monday morning the animals took over the world. The Monday morning was the first of April. The animals of the zoo broke out and the pets broke out, too. On the first of April the animals could talk and that was very surprise. The next day was very strange because the pets walked on two legs. The people hid from all animals.

Two years later the animals were stronger than us. But I didn't accept that. So I went to the boss of the animals. The boss was a lion, and his family were his assistants. I went to the boss, and it was very difficult. I said to him " Please, don't kill us people. What can we do that we have peace?" The lion answered " All people shouldn't eat animals and when we see a person eat us then they will be punished." I said it was OK for us and the most people found it OK, too. But some found that not good and attacked the boss. The lion won. So all people didn't eat animals and animals didn't eat people. The world is in peace. But I still don't trust the boss, the lion.

THE DAY THE ANIMALS TOOK OVER

Last summer my friends invited me to a camping trip. We packed our tents, our provisions and our clothes and went into the woods. As soon as it got dark we pitched our tents and made a fire. After our dinner we went to bed and because everyone was exhausted from the hike, we fell asleep quickly.

Suddenly I woke up. Something was wrong. There were strange noises around my tent. I was curious and looked out. What I saw, made me speechless. There was a deer that was extinguishing the fire that we forgot, with his hoofs, there were squirrels that were picking up our rubbish, there were wild pigs that fixed the ant hill, which we broke by day, a bear who made my friends to help other animals... "Oh no!" I whispered, "the animals took over!" Suddenly one of the animals turned its head to me. It was a wolf! It looked at me and attacked! There were just ten meters between me and the creature. Three meters, two meters one meter and...

"Come on, wake up!" my friend laughed. "It's already eleven o'clock!" Now I realised, that it was all just a dream. But it got me thinking about our behaviour. I told my friends that we did many mistakes and we should fix them. So we all went and extinguished the fire, collected our rubbish, fixed the ant hill... After this incident I realised how important the nature is for us.

The day the animals took over

One day the animals appeared on earth.

A pink whale, an orange mouse, a purple cat, a yellow dog, a black bird, a red chimpanzee, a blue snake, a green butterfly, a white sloth and a turkwhite chameleon. They were special animals because they were the cleverest animals. And they had a plan.

They wanted to have an island only for animals. One night the ten animals had a meeting to discuss the plan. The cleverest animal was the turkwhite chameleon and the chameleon said, "We must bring all animals from the world to the land and then the big, big whale must break the land so we have our big tropical island." So the animals disappeared to catch all the other animals. After some days all animals had gathered on the land. When all the animals where on the right place they started a countdown. They shouted, "Ten, nine, eight, seven, six! "

And when they shouted five the whale took a deep breath and on number zero the whale broke the land in two pieces! The animals applauded and were very happy. No humans! The island was so big that everyone had enough space to live and they all were happy!
